SITTARD WAR CEMETERY
Netherlands
unspecified
Sittard lies on the main road from Maastricht to Roermond, 1 kilometre north east of Maastricht and 29 kilometres south of Roermond. From Maastricht the E25 leads north east towards Lindelheuvell. From Lindelheuvell lies the right hand turning to Sittard (5 kilometres). The cemetery is located approximately 1 kilometre from the town centre on a road called Kromstraat, road leading from the Rijksweg Zuid. The cemetery can also be reached from a road leading from the N276 at the junction of road running between Sittard and Geleen. At this junction follow the direction towards Sittard itself. Alternatively, approaching the centre of Sittard follow the road towards Geleen. The cemetery is signposted thereafter.

Historical information

The burials in the cemetery, apart from a few dating from November 1944, are almost all from the months of January and February 1945. The men buried here belong mostly to the Scout regiments of the 52nd (Lowland) Division, engaged in the battle in this vicinity from 18th to 24th January 1945, which had as its objective the clearing of a salient west of the River Roer which was still held by the Germans. There are now over 230 1939-1945 War casualties commemorated in this site.
